

PRESIDENT J. REUBEN CLARK, JR.
First Counselor in the First Presidency

There is time only for a word.

Today I have, by my uplifted hand, witnessed to President Smith, to you, and to the Lord, that I will sustain him as prophet, seer, and revelator, and President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Each of you has made a like covenant. The Lord has said, ". . . if ye are not one ye are not mine." (D. & C. 38:27.) God give to each and every one of us the strength and the power to be loyal, to give up faultfinding, to give up trying to find new ways, to obey the commandments of the Lord—to obey those whom you have yourselves sustained to lead you, for without unity in leadership there cannot be progress and this Church cannot be built up. God give to all of us the power to do this, I humbly pray in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

The Relief Society Singing Mothers of the Salt Lake stakes will now sing for us. Before they do so, I would like to say that President Clark will not consider the remarks he has just made, I hope, as his address to the Conference. We will give him more time on another occasion.

Selection by the Relief Society Singing Mothers, "Sweet Is the Work."

President George Albert Smith:

I think this large audience would like to know that Aunt Augusta Grant, who for so many years took care of our beloved President who passed away not long ago, has been sitting through these services. We are so happy to have her here.

Elder Joseph F. Smith, Patriarch to the Church, offered the closing prayer. Conference adjourned until 2 o'clock p.m.

FIRST DAY
AFTERNOON MEETING

The second session of the Conference was held in the Tabernacle at 2 o'clock p.m., Friday, October 5. Again the building was crowded to capacity.

President George Albert Smith:

You will notice we are trying to run this Church on time, and it has been on time all the way.
